

Kantaro Yamaguchi

Manager, Urban Management Strategy Headquarters, Tokyu Corporation

Mr. Yamaguchi is a manager of the Strategy Planning Group in Urban Management Strategy Headquarters, and is responsible for formulating strategies and achieving public-private partnerships to achieve the well-being of urban residents along Tokyu lines.

In 1999, Mr. Yamaguchi joined Tokyu Corporation after earning a bachelor's degree in geography from the University of Tokyo.

He was initially assigned to the personnel department in charge of human capital management, and in 2005, he was in charge of strategy development, IR and overall control of the real estate business unit.

In 2015, he became a manager of the Shibuya Development Division, and was responsible for area management and the town branding, and formulated the vision of Shibuya in 2040. He has been in his current position since the start of 2018.
